I am delighted to welcome you to the first issue of "Electronic Physician" Journal, the first electronic journal in Iran with license from Iranian ministry of culture. With your help we aim to make this journal a reputable publication for medical and health science. The electronic physician is an electronic journal which publishes the research works as well as reviews, case reports, documentaries and other acceptable formats of articles.

I would like to express my great gratitude to all the authors for their excellent contribution to the journal and the reviewers for their efforts in starting up this journal. It is expected that with the efforts of the great editors of the journal we receive new research articles from all parts of the world.

The next volume of the journal will be published in 2010 and each manuscript is expected to be published online as soon as it passes the peer review process.
